HEAVYWEIGHT BATTLE IS ON

DEFAULT IN INTEREST TO HASTEN WATER CO. REORGANIZATION PLAN

Bankers' Committee Recommends Passing of July Payment and Bondholders' Participation in Refinancing of Peoples Concern

Following out the plan of reorganization of the Peoples Water Company of Oakland, the committee of bankers composed of F. E. Bowles, John S. Drum and W. W. Garthwaite, who have had charge of the company's affairs, have presented a report embodying the following recommendations:

That the company default on the July interest on all bonds underlying and the blanket mortgage bonds, totaling $12,749,000.

That all bondholders of the Peoples and allied companies should form protective committees to participate in the reorganization.

That the valuation of the property, to be fixed by the Railroad Commission, be made the basis of the reorganization.

That the underlying bondholders will be fully taken care of as admitted, but what the bondholders of the Peoples Company will get is in the balance. These bonds yesterday changed hands rapidly at the Stock and Bond Exchange at $2. About $50,000 par value were sold.

PHYSICAL VALUATION BASIS.

That the rates in the future must be made on a physical valuation basis and that the service of these two cities must not be allowed to suffer during reorganization is a matter to which the bankers' committee calls attention.

That the July coupon on $12,719,000 outstanding 5 per cent bonds of the Peoples Water Company, Contra Costa Water Company, Oakland Water Company, Alameda Artesian Water Company and East Shore Water Company should be allowed to default.

That in the opinion of the company, the physical condition of the company's properties is excellent and that the outlook for their expansion, through the growth of the transbay communities, is very good. The present water supply is estimated as sufficient for the requirements of the communities served until their combined population reaches 700,000.

That the holders of the bonds of the Peoples Water Company and the bankers' refunding committee in each of subsidiary companies, as well as the noteholders, should form protective committees to co-operate with formulating a plan of financial reorganization equitable to all concerned.

That the valuation of the property by the Railroad Commission shall form the final basis of the reorganization of the company.

MAKE RECOMMENDATIONS.

The report of the committee follows:

Refunding Committee of the Peoples Water Company, The Oakland Bank of Savings Building, Oakland, Cal., June 25, 1914.

To the Bondholders of the Contra Costa Water Company, Oakland Water Company, Alameda Artesian Water Company, East Shore Water Company, constituting the underlying bondholders; and

To the Bondholders and Noteholders of Peoples Water Company:

In order to bring squarely before the public the imperative necessity of prompt and concerted action to preserve values now plainly in jeopardy, the refunding committee of the Peoples Water Company has recommended to the board of directors that the company default in its interest payments due July 1st next on the bonds of the Peoples Water Company and the underlying issues as well.

These bonds, in their respective categories, are as follows:

Contra Costa Water Co. 1st mortgage 5% bonds under trust deed dated Nov. 1, 1913, $2,000,000.

Alameda Artesian Water Co. 1st mortgage 5% bonds under trust dated May 1, 1899, 1,500,000.

Alameda Artesian Water Co. 1st mortgage 5% bonds under trust dated Feb. 1, 1900, 600,000.

East Shore Water Co. 1st mortgage 5% bonds under trust dated June 15, 1900, 800,000.

Contra Costa Water Co. 2d mortgage 5% bonds under trust dated May 5, 1903, 1,000,000.

General Mortgage Bonds, Peoples Water Co. 7.14%, 5,600,000.

Total outstanding bonds, $12,749,000.

Anticipating possible objections, especially from the holders of the underlying issues, the committee desires to explain fully a condition whereunder it becomes expedient, even absolutely necessary, for one corporation whose bonds are unsecured to merge with another to form a satisfactory and increasing profit, to take such a course.

It is because there is a community of interest among the persons financially interested in the two companies, and that they fully understand the fact that the officers will make possible a complete financial reorganization of a as between the holders of the bonds of the Peoples Water Company and the holders of the underlying bonds. To pay the interest on the underlying bonds and to pay on the bonds of the Peoples Water Company would permit the holders of the latter securities to commence foreclosure proceedings, and as no default had occurred in any of the underlying leases no similar action could be taken against the underlying securities.

Accordingly, the committee has recommended default of all interest payments, so that in the event foreclosure proceedings are instituted under the terms of the trust deeds, no body of bondholders will be at a disadvantage.

AN OLD PRACTICE DISCONTINUED.

It should be stated also that if the committee maintained the practice followed in the case of the semi-annual interest payment, the semi-annual interest charges by reducing the revenue of the succeeding six months' period, default would not be necessary. The company's credit in the last six months was at best at a standstill, so no body of bondholders would be at a disadvantage.

The economic soundness of the Peoples and allied companies should form protective committees to participate in the reorganization.

That the valuation of the property, to be fixed by the Railroad Commission, be made the basis of the reorganization.

That the underlying bondholders will be fully taken care of as admitted, but what the bondholders of the Peoples Company will get is in the balance. These bonds yesterday changed hands rapidly at the Stock and Bond Exchange at $2. About $50,000 par value were sold.

PHYSICAL VALUATION BASIS.

That the rates in the future must be made on a physical valuation basis and that the service of these two cities must not be allowed to suffer during reorganization is a matter to which the bankers' committee calls attention.

That the July coupon on $12,719,000 outstanding 5 per cent bonds of the Peoples Water Company, Contra Costa Water Company, Oakland Water Company, Alameda Artesian Water Company and East Shore Water Company should be allowed to default.

THE PROBLEM AT HAND.

Briefly, the situation is as follows: According to the underlying bonds in the total amount of $12,749,000 matured on January 1, 1915, and no adequate provision has been made or can be made at that time for their redemption.

On July 1st the coupon payments will not be met. Thereafter there will be but one alternative to the financial disintegration of the attachment of the Peoples Water Company to the attachment of the Peoples Water Company.

The primary object was to bring home to the several classes of note and bond holders a realization of their mutual danger—a realization which is essential to the safety of the company.

At the beginning of the session Mile La Gal and Dean C. H. Riebe issued strict orders that only women should be admitted to the dancing classes. Prof. Charles Daniel, a local dancing teacher, made a futile effort to break down the禁令.

President Wheeler, apparently wishing to determine the property of the no-man rule, entered Harmon Gymnasium during the progress of the dancing. He had hardly entered before Mile La Gal caught sight of him in the rear of the gymnasium. She paused in her activity and said very firmly and loud enough for the University head to hear.

"No men are permitted in this course," said Mile La Gal.

According to students who were in the class President Wheeler rose with a gesture as if to explain his presence. Mile La Gal apparently not knowing who he was, nor wishing to brook interference, said in a slightly raised key,

"No men are allowed in this course."

President Wheeler, according to the students, made a final effort to explain, whereupon the little dameuse, her eyes now dangerously flashing, gave a third warning.

"No man allowed in this class."

Thereupon, it is stated, President Wheeler discreetly withdrew.

Dr. Wheeler had barely left the gymnasium when the laudator had been sent up within scores of the women students who had recognized him, burst forth in a hilarious shout. It was explained to Mile La Gal to what an extent she had unwittingly ventured.

She is said to have made no comment upon the information but to have proceeded with her class work with apparent self-possession.

Suffragettes Bombard Royalty With Pamphlets

On the basis of the partial reports made to the committee, it is able to state that the value of the property and its income are sufficient to protect every interest, provided, however, the property is maintained intact and is operated and developed as one plant.

On the basis of the partial reports made to the committee, it is able to state that the value of the property and its income are sufficient to protect every interest, provided, however, the property is maintained intact and is operated and developed as one plant.

On the operating side the condition of the company is fundamentally sound, as shown by the following statement:

Gross income for year 1913, $1,450,045.77

Less operating expenses.....$27,245.51

Less interest and fixed charges.....$21,327.14

Showing a net income (except depreciation) of $1,201,473.10

For the year beginning July 1, 1914, the estimated earnings and expenses of the company are as follows:

Gross income.....$1,700,000

Less operating expenses $345,000

Less interest and fixed charges.....$300,000

Showing a net income of.....$1,065,000

As it is proposed to reinvest the entire net income in construction work, no other provision need be made for depreciation account.

FIELDS FOR DEVELOPMENT.

The future prospects of the Peoples Water Company, the committee continued to be presented as one of the most important fields for development, what has become in the last ten years virtually one community, are beyond question. The cities of Oakland, Alameda, Hercules and Richmond and the independent plants are now practically one. They are growing rapidly. One water system, integrated and financed on a sound basis, is a community need and the Peoples Water Company must

POLICE ON TRAIL OF FREDERICK K. HAMILTON

Captain of Inspectors Leo F. Agnew telegraphed to Boston Mass., where Chief of Police Walter J. Petersen is now a guest of the Boston police department, asking that every effort be made to arrest Frederick Keats Hamilton, who fled from Oakland a week ago with Mrs. Johnny Mae Dunbar, a beautiful widow, whom he married in Stockton under the pretense that he was a single man. Telegrams and letters sent by Hamilton and his latest wife while on their flight that they are bound for Boston. Agnew hopes to have them arrested there or intercepted on the way.

OFFICER KILLS BURGLAR IN HAND-TO-HAND FIGHT

ROCHESTER, N. Y., June 27.—At the closing session of the National Association of Credit Men held here last night the following officers were elected:

President, Charles E. Marks of New York; first vice-president, H. G. Moore of Kansas City; second vice-president, Herbert E. Clouse of Atlanta; John M. Caledon, De Motte, and L. B. McComas of Los Angeles, were elected members of the board of directors.

Baby of Future is Considered

Much thought has been given in late years to the subject of maternity. In the cities there are maternity hospitals equipped with modern methods. But most women prefer their own homes and in the towns and villages must prefer theirs. And since this is true we must bring our babies into the world in a safe and comfortable manner.

SPLENDID LETTERS WRITTEN. On the subject that our "Mother's Friend" is a great help to expectant mothers. They write of the wonderful effect, how it seemed to allow the suspense to expand without undue strain and what a splendid influence it was on the nervous system. Such help as "Mother's Friend" and the broader knowledge of them should have a helpful effect upon the hopes of the future.

EIGHTEEN ARE PASSED. The first eighteen applications were taken up separately and passed. When the application of Borchart was read, H. J. Wiss, his attorney, asked for the floor.

"I cannot see why Borchart has been stopped," he said. "He has five times the number of names required on his petition. He has conducted his salon so that there has been no trouble."

THE TRANSFER WILL TAKE PLACE AT THE END OF THE MONTH.

IT WAS NEVER HIS FAULT. All he wants is fair play and if you vote against him, he will not be able to play his part.

THE CAPTURED BURGLAR WAS LOCATED IN HIS HOME.

YOU WOULD NOT GET A GOOD DEAL WITH A GUN AND 3000 FEET OF LINE.

THAT IS WHAT YOU WILL BE DOING HERE IF YOU DO NOT CHANGE HIS CONVICTION.

HUERTISTAS AND REBELS TO CONFER

Meeting Between Federal and Rebel Envoys Predicted

President Wilson Views
Plans for Conference
With Optimism

Washington early today received a lengthy message from the American delegates at Niagara Falls, and officials close to the executive expressed the opinion that a meeting between the Huerta and Constitutionalists representatives was practically assured. The message received today is said to have been the result of a conference between the American delegates and Minister Non. While it is estimated in some quarters that an informal conference between the opposing Mexican factions will terminate in failure, it was made clear that President Wilson is viewing negotiations optimistically.

The state department was today notified through the Brazilian embassy that General Huerta was willing to have Vice-Counsel Silliman return to his post at Saltillo. The willingness of Huerta to return the American consul, whom his troops imprisoned and threatened with death, to a territory over which he now has no control was merely a formally and to preserve the good faith of the United States in respect of a promise made when it secured the release of Silliman from his precarious position.

The Constitutionalists now entirely control Saltillo and the surrounding territory.

AWAIT CARRANZA'S DECISION.

Administration officials and Constitutionalists' representatives in Washington still were waiting today for Carranza to decide whether he would send envoys to Niagara Falls to discuss with Huerta's delegates conditions for the restoration of order in Mexico. Carranza's agents expressed confident hopes that he would accept the invitation to the informal conference but the question of his attitude still remained open.

It was declared, however, by members of the Constitutionalists' junta that the Constitutionalists were determined to continue their aggressive military campaign toward Mexico City even if the conference was arranged in San Luis Potosi. It was understood, would be the Constitutionalists' next goal, with the investment of Aguas Calientes in sight.

Press dispatches from the south indicated that Carranza's instructions to his agents, bearing on the proposed conference, might reach Washington today. The Constitutional leader was in Monterrey, where he had been enthusiastically acclaimed.

WOULD AVERT FIGHTING.

Administration officials were silent on suggestions that they would continue to bring their influence to bear on the Constitutionalists for settlement of the Mexican problem by diplomacy. It was said the United States might withhold promises of recognition if further fighting in the southern republic was not averted and terms arranged for the restoration of peace.

Amazing details of the fighting at Zanacuera, in which the Zapatistas triumphed against apparently heavy odds, were widely discussed here today. There was much speculation over the effect that the Zapatista victory might have on attempts to bring representatives of the warring factions together. While in some quarters it was held that the Constitutionalists would be satisfied with their showing and be willing to enter mediation, elsewhere it was suggested that results of the fighting might make the revolutionary leaders even more eager to take the capital of the republic by conquest. It was recognized, however, that the point would be settled only by word which was awaited from Carranza.

Machine Crashes Into Post on Boulevard

A broken steering knuckle, which rendered the machine helpless, last night sent the automobile of Captain E. W. C. Christiansen, of Alameda, into a post on the San Leandro Road. The machine was damaged, but neither he nor his fellow passengers were hurt.

Captain Christiansen was driving toward Hayward, and had proceeded about a mile from San Leandro when he lost control of his car. He succeeded in slowing down, however, before the impact. His wife and several friends were in the machine at the time.

WOULD BE CONGRESSMAN JUDGE GEARY IN CONTEST

JUDGE W. R. GEARY, CANDIDATE FOR CONGRESS TO SUCCEED HON. J. R. KNOWLAND.

Judge W. R. Geary today entered the lists for the Progressive nomination as Congressman to succeed Congressman Joseph R. Knowland in the Third Congressional district. Judge Geary has been urged by his many friends and supporters to become a candidate, and it is upon this solicitation that he has consented to run. Congressman Knowland is seeking the position of United States Senator, and it is believed by a majority of the voters of the Third district, which is composed of Alameda county, that a young and active man should succeed him. It is important that the right man be selected to carry on the great development work of the Oakland harbor, which has always been identified with civic and political advancement, taking as the part his questions concerning the city and country's interests. He has been admitted to the bar thirteen years ago and for twelve years has been Justice of the peace for Brooklyn township. He is a member of the Commercial Club, the Alameda Chamber of Commerce and many fraternal orders. In Alameda he has taken a leading part in improving the waterfront and he has made an earnest study of the needs of Oakland on her waterfront and has always been a champion for the full development of the harbor.

man who can take an intelligent part in the adjustment of the difficulties between labor and capital. The progressive party has made this adjustment of the chief issues and Judge Geary will stand unequivocally behind the party in bringing about better conditions and a clearer understanding between labor and capital.

Judge Geary was born in Oakland thirty-eight years ago and has always been identified with civic and political advancement, taking as the part his questions concerning the city and country's interests. He has been admitted to the bar thirteen years ago and for twelve years has been Justice of the peace for Brooklyn township. He is a member of the Commercial Club, the Alameda Chamber of Commerce and many fraternal orders. In Alameda he has taken a leading part in improving the waterfront and he has made an earnest study of the needs of Oakland on her waterfront and has always been a champion for the full development of the harbor.

He lives usually on a virtually vegetarian diet. He said this morning: "I have found cake an excellent substitute for roast meat. To me it is more nourishing, and strength-building than meat and agrees better with my system."

His bill of fare for dinner consisted of roast chicken and fresh vegetables, or a little over five hours before entering the ring.

Moran slept soundly for ten hours in his training quarters. His bill of fare was two boiled eggs and rolls after which he took a leisurely morning walk. He was in high spirits, especially when he found in today's mail a letter from Alderman Joseph Clancy of Pittsburgh saying:

"The blackberry is ready to pick."

CHECK PHOTOGRAPHED.

The check for $30,000 made out in February, when the contract for the fight was signed and then photographed and deposited in the vaults of the Credit Lyonnaise to be handed to Mrs. Johnson at noon today did not figure in today's transactions of the colored fighter, so far as could be ascertained. When questioned about the check Johnson said:

"All I will say is that I am to receive $30,000 win, lose or draw."

This sum is in addition to the $500 paid to Johnson for his training expenses at the time articles were signed.

Dan McKittrick, manager of Moran, and Theodore Vienne, the French promoter of the match, evaded all inquiries today as to what Moran's percentage was to be in case he won, but it was generally understood that Moran had received a guarantee of $5000 win, lose or draw.

Before the big fight tonight there was to be several minor bouts, one between a Belgian "white hope" named Tynneke, a sparring partner of Georges Carpentier, and Avenuee, a French boxer.

The crowd evidently wishing to take advantage of the preliminaries to the Johnson-Moran contest as well as that of the big fight began to arrive at the Velodrome at an early hour. Many women wearing handbags were among the spectators.

Johnson narrowly escaped arrest for speeding as he was coming from Astoria to the Velodrome in an automobile. The champion was detained by the police but finally was allowed to proceed after a warning.

Arriving at the Velodrome Johnson was given a great cheer by the crowd which had gathered outside. Moran who appeared shortly afterward, was accorded a similar ovation.

"And then, when we saw looming out of the darkness the headlight of an oncoming freight train, I can assure you the situation was far from a pleasant one. But I can only praise the heroism and efficiency of that train crew and of a few of the men who rallied to a realization of the danger after they had overcome their dazed condition."

The treatment of the passengers by the officials, who arrived on the accommodation train, and the prompt by the corps of nurses and doctors was all that could be expected, and while the accident was to be deplored, it certainly brought out the most of what was in those who had the strength and stability to meet a trying situation."

Had the train been lighted with kerosene instead of the spirit oil, Miss Potter said, the entire train would have been burned before aid could have been summoned.

COUSIN INJURED.

Prepared with detailed descriptions of the wreck from Oakland and Alameda passengers who survived the disaster, detectives are today investigating the mysterious events surrounding the derailing on Thursday night of the Yosemite-Merced train, in which two persons were killed and several injured. The wreck was caused by spreading rails and another of the same nature preceded it. The detectives believe that an attempt at vengeance on the part of peon laborers is responsible for the mishap.

The second wreck occurred on Wednesday near Bagby, only a short distance from the big wreck. A spread rail threw off a train but little damage was done. Thursday night the same kind of an accident occurred to train No. 8, hurling two cars down the bank twenty feet into the river. Stonewall Jackson Harris, county surveyor of Mariposa county, was caught between the cars and slowly drowned. John C. Mahoney, conductor, was swept away in the Merced river.

PASSENGER'S RECITAL.

Graphic stories are told by the survivors of the wreck and the attendant horrors. Details of the death of Stonewall Jackson Harris were related last night by Hansford P. Griffith, Berkeley attorney, and one of the survivors of the wreck.

Harris died a death that was hours in the coming, with very little alleviation possible. Caught between two cars that had fallen seventy feet down an embankment into the Merced river, Harris felt the water creep upward, past his chin to his nostrils and finally engulf him and snuff out his life.

NIGHT TERROR.

"Our car trembled, grazed and then was still," said Griffith. "Passengers popped out of their berths in wild alarm as my friend and I leaped to our feet and rushed outside to investigate."

"Ahead of us fully 200 feet, we could see the lights of our engine. But between our car and the locomotive was an empty void, for which we did not long have to seek the cause."

"From below us, along with the rippling of the river seventy feet down a steep embankment floated up loud screams and cries of fright and pain. Two coaches were missing from ahead of our coach and it struck us suddenly that they were down there in the river, with the passengers mangled and dying."

THE TRAGEDY OF HARRIS.

"As we were pulling injured passengers out through the windows of the day coach I noticed a connection at a point between the two cars. I went down there and a horrible scene was before me by the dim light of a lantern."

"A man, whom I afterward learned was Stonewall Jackson Harris, was caught by the lower part of his legs between the two cars. The water, which came up to his chin, swirled and eddied about him with a continuous hiss. He was waving his hands above the water and exerting all his force to pull himself free. Each time he would fall back with a moan of pain and fix his eyes upon us."

"Saw off my legs and get me free; for God's sake, some one saw off my legs," he screamed, as we waded through the water to his aid. Time after time we strove to pry the two cars apart that we might lift Harris from between them. We made absolutely no impression upon them, and because of his position we were unable to learn just how Harris was caught."

"Finally Harris became more calm and explained to us that he was familiar with that part of the country and that the river would rise five inches before morning. He told us he would be drowned if we did not succeed in extricating him and cheered us on as we again bent to our hopeless task."

CALMLY HE DIES.

"It was the saddest and at the same time the most terrible sight that I have ever witnessed. It seemed hours that we worked beside the unfortunate man. Every moment we labored against the steady approach of death. The waters of the river crept up over his chin and he had to throw up his head back to speak to us."

"At length the water covered Harris' mouth and he was silent. Men and women forgot their own hurts to sob out in grief at the spectacle. Up to the man's nostrils the water reached. There were a few bubbles as Harris vainly tried to breathe. Then the water subsided, and all about us the rushing waters and the groans of the injured."

ALAMEDANS TELL OF WRECK.

Mrs. J. H. Brooks and her daughter, Gladys, of 2934 San Antonia street, Alameda, returned last evening from Merced. They were passengers on the wrecked train.

The crowd evidently wished to take advantage of the preliminaries to the Johnson-Moran contest as well as that of the big fight.

Before the big fight tonight there was to be several minor bouts, one between a Belgian "white hope" named Tynneke, a sparring partner of Georges Carpentier, and Avenuee, a French boxer.

Rare June Days in Oakland.

"What is so rare as a day in June?" exclaimed a writer of eminence, intoxicated with the wine of the air of the early summer. Nothing, more especially when that day is an Oakland day. For indeed these be glorious hours, especially in the morning, although the high noon and the evening are something to be admired.

But at peep-o-day, when the birds begin chirping in the rose bushes outside the window, when the first faint streaks of color appear across the eastern sky, when the glint of the rising sun tints the Coast Range with an aurora of crimson and gold and the light flashes scintillate from peak to peak, all their coruscations intense in their fulgidity as minute succeeds minute, until finally the whole escarpment of mountain and gorge is ablaze with the fires of the mighty orb, then is the rarity most appreciable. For with all this reniteny and resplendence; accompanying the music of the feathered songsters there is something else. The pure atmosphere, fresh and invigorating, carries on it the modest pansy, and as one breathes the delicious odors he involuntarily imagines he is just about a dozen miles nearer heaven than the chap who lives elsewhere.

Higher and higher mounts the sun on his journey across the blue dome, but as he climbs and climbs nearer the zenith there is little appreciable addition to the heat, for from out from the Pacific are wafted the cool, the salty and the healthful breezes that tone down the intensity of his rays and make life worth living, Oh, so much more than in other and less favored localities. Men come and go about their outdoor avocations and toil through the day with energy, but we hear of no prostrations such as are noted eastward, because in this clime of ours everything has been weighed and balanced by a beneficent Divinity so that labor is made a pleasure and the worker gets part of his reward from the conditions in which he spends his efforts.

The evenings are something to marvel at. Away out through the Golden Gate Old Sol retires to rest in a couch of purple and argent erected over a sea of emerald. Like a great glowing ruby he sinks in this mass of color, his last rays shooting athwart the sky in a transplendence born of the thought of a Mind higher than human intelligence can conceive and finally disappears in a rosy glow of farewell that touches all the surroundings like the benediction of a loving Deity on a beloved infant. Then we retire to rest in a night as pleasant as ever described in tales of Paradise to arise again and greet a sister of the day preceding.

Small wonder that Oaklanders are proud of their climate with all its attributes; small wonder that it is their constant boast, for there is nothing under the azure vault so rare, so inspiring, so beautiful, so much to be desired as a June day in Oakland.

Wonder why the suffragettes do not try to have an interview with King George? Are they afraid of Mary?

Algol Lange confirms the discovery by the colonel of the River of Doubt. But whether this action is ample to warrant dubbing the stream the River of Certainty is a matter yet to be threshed out.

Queen Mary having been appointed colonel of a couple of English infantry regiments, we now wait with almost breathless anxiety the moment when she will draw her sword against Ulster.

Of course theft is nothing of which to boast, but the fact that pilferers took 280 sacks of barley from a ranch near Willows shows when larceny is committed in California it is on a grand scale, like other and much more laudable enterprises.

Broccoli, a hardy variety of cauliflower and said to have a superior flavor, bids fair to supersede the regular brand. It is related that a single acre will produce between 3000 and 4000 plants, and as they grow in the winter season as well as in the summer it is fair to presume that California will soon be enjoying another financial advantage from returns from a vegetable that can be shipped to the benighted easterner who is afraid to open the "turnip hole" lest the frost kill off the entire contents.

Why Erase Mason and Dixon's Line?

President Wilson, in a letter to President H. B. Joy of the Lincoln Highway Association, urges the abolition of the "imaginary Mason and Dixon's line," that famous survey between Pennsylvania on the north and Maryland, Delaware and what is now West Virginia on the south, famous for a long time as the limit between the free and the slave states. Oh, what's the use?

Slavery has been abolished for so long a time that when one of the former chattel servants of the old South dies the newspapers play the story on the front page; the states below this old survey made in 1764-67 and the states above have clasped hands in brotherhood for so many years the Civil War is but a memory; the division is no longer between states that were slave and states that were free, but merely separates, as Bob Taylor of Tennessee said, the land of cold bread from the realm of hot biscuits. More, it marks the limit of the harsh Overholt of Pittsburgh from the "peach and honey" of Virginia, the fricassee of the Keystone State from the cream gravy they pour on the broiler in Maryland, the "johnny cake" of the north from the corn pone baked in the ashes in the land where the magnolia blossoms in its alabaster radiance, the fried turn-over from the flaky pie made of the Albermarle Pippin and many other good things.

There is no more political significance in Mason and Dixon's line today than there is in the east and west side of Broadway; all it stands for is variety in diet and for the sake of all the good cooks that have lived and made life pleasant and have died and gone to heaven, let us have one place where we can say: "Here's where the good eatin' begins; here's where we will find the oyster in his glory and the canvas-back duck in his magnificence; here is where the terrapin is coming into his own once more; here is where the essence of the peace is mingled with the result of the war of the bees; here is the joy unspeakable, the life worth

That Trying Moment—When Your Host Insists

—CHICAGO DAILY NEWS.

Marysville Vindicates Itself.

Harper's Weekly, while somewhat tardy in action, has at last consented to give Marysville a hearing in the matter of the Wheatland strike, written up early this year by Mrs. Inez Haynes Gilmore, a "sob sister" who defended the I. W. W. slayers of Deputy Sheriff Reardon and District Attorney Manwell.

District Attorney E. B. Stanwood succeeded in getting the case of Marysville presented where the Chamber of Commerce failed and Harper's Weekly has printed it. The communication by Mr. Stanwood is a succinct and masterly presentation of the facts. He directs attention in the first instance to the fact that Mrs. Gilmore was not present during the strike and was not present during any part of the trial five months later, with the exception of the time counsel for the state and defense were presenting their arguments. That she was obliged to depend for information upon the ipse dixit of persons pretending to know that which had happened and unfortunately for the truth, heard only one side.

Reviewing the case from inception to verdict, the District Attorney confounds Mrs. Gilmore in every instance and his presentation of the matter is so strong, so truthful, so unanswerable that Harper's Weekly has been impelled, in order to justify itself as a fair-minded and impartial chronicler of events to give him space. Among other matters cited are the following:

It is impossible to take up all the minor errors into which Mrs. Gilmore has fallen. Notice should be taken, however, of the charge that "Marysville wanted blood." Nothing could be more cruelly false than this. The temper of the community was at all times moderate. Men who felt in any way prejudiced were careful to say so when examined as possible jurors and were excused. In the end the defense secured such a jury as it wanted WITH TWO OF ITS PEREMPTORY CHALLENGES STILL UNUSED. Of this jury eight were small farmers, four were workingmen. One of the workingmen was a union carpenter. The judge was notably fair and unbiased throughout.

The question of "organized labor" did not enter into finding of the verdict or imposition of sentence at all. There is no feeling in Marysville or Yuba county against organized labor. Judge McDaniel, who presided at the trial, has always been personally friendly to organized labor. His two sons are active members of a labor union. The attorneys for the prosecution had absolutely no feeling against the organization of labor, and no sentiment against even the I. W. W. body for what it may have done elsewhere in different circumstances. They felt only an obligation to perform an unpleasant duty in the case of the individuals who were convicted were guilty of murder.

Marysville is to be congratulated. The crime was reprehensible in the extreme. The trial was conducted according to law. The verdict was justified by the evidence. The story by Mrs. Gilmore was unwarranted. The statement by the District Attorney is fact. California and Marysville are both favorable to union labor, but neither will justify unwarranted killings and deliberate slaughter in the name of labor, fostered and abetted by a roving tribe of agitators who always leave a trail of blood behind them, no matter in what part of the country they pursue their activities.

Japan having put the alien land law squarely up to Bryan, wonder if the late colonel of the First Nebraska will start a watchful waiting policy?

Comes now the Sacramento Record with a scolding for the Royal Arch for initiating a law lifting the lid off the liquor traffic for eight years. But why scold? The Record favored the initiative and was among the many advocates of that measure, pleading for it because of its multifarious excellencies. The Record appears to rejoice when the act is utilized for promulgating its pet theories and to mourn and fuss when opponents try to take advantage of its provisions. While this paper holds no brief for the Royal Arch, as its past action demonstrates, it is bound to concede that under the law that organization is entitled to the same privileges as other associations able to muster the necessary signers.

Just by way of inquiry: Are you registered for the August primaries?

That Napa is a city of immense financial importance is disclosed by a statement made by the Journal of that enterprising city, although we confess to a mild degree of surprise at the magnitude of its banking houses. Commenting on a statement made by I. W. Hellman Jr., who informed a New York interviewer that the amount of money which will be paid to California producers for their crops this year will exceed the $500,000,000 mark, the

"all the banks of this city." If the newspaper is correct in its assertion Oakland, San Francisco and Los Angeles bankers will do well to look to their laurels.

A SAGE OF HOUSE-CLEANING

Housecleaning is bad enough in itself, but like other maladies, it is not so bad as its after effects. Housecleaning leaves the house in a pitiable state of perfection. The house recovers in time and so do we—in time for another housecleaning.

A house convalescing from a housecleaning is a querulous thing. There is no living with such a house. It quarrels with itself and everybody else. The floors scrubbed and waxed and polished, are shiny and vain, and so jealous of the rugs that they will not let them lie still. You step on a rug and away you go until you and the rug are in a bundle in the corner, and the floor is gleaming with infestation. Of course, the rugs are just as bad. They have been washed and their dull old comfort has been exchanged for a youthful gaiety, each rug trying to be the gayest and every one screaming at all the rest. They are proud, too, and even longingly last winter, shows every footprint and rents being stepped on.

The books—it was rather fun dusting the books and renewing acquaintance with those on the back shelves—the books stand solemnly erect in precise rows, onion of dirt. We do not like to sweep and dust and we do not care about having our houses so righteously clean, but house-cleaning comes twice a year just the same, leaving its after effects behind it.—Indianapolis News

BEGIN TERMINAL RATES HEARING

Railroads Resist Application of Astoria to Interstate Commerce Commission.

PORTLAND, Or., June 27.—Representatives of railroads centering in Portland, Seattle, Tacoma and Spokane are gathering here to protest the application of Astoria to the Interstate Commerce Commission for terminal rates. Examiner Merwin Pugh, representing the commission, will hold the hearing here next Monday, and the testimony which he receives will be sent to the commission, which will hear arguments and render a decision.

Astoria, which is held by the railroads to be located on a branch line, disputes this ruling and demands the abatement of the differential rates which now favors the established terminals of the Northwest.

J. G. Woodworth, vice-president of the Northern Pacific, arrived today to attend the hearing. Henry Blakely, general freight agent, and H. E. Still, assistant general freight agent, are already here. H. A. Scandrett, special interstate commerce commission attorney of the Union Pacific system, arrived yesterday from Chicago to resist the appeal, and he will be hosted by local counsel. M. J. Costello of Seattle, general freight agent of the Great Northern, is also expected.

PROTEST WATER DISTRICT ACTION

Inclusion of Certain Lands in Pleasanton Election Call Promises Suits.

Preparations were begun today by several attorneys in what may result in considerable litigation over the Pleasanton water district, yesterday established when the board of supervisors, reversing their action of Monday, included protested land in the area in which an election for the district is to be called. The step was taken over a vigorous protest yesterday afternoon at the adjourned meeting of the board and apparently in two attorneys in effect. It gives the people of Pleasanton the right to force the Spring Valley Water Company to assist them in financing their water district, which would be a competitive concern.

"This is un-American," protested Warren Oliver, attorney for the without representation.

The question was placed before the supervisors Monday, when Olyny, C. Gale and several others appeared to protest the inclusion of certain lands in the district. These included those of the Spring Valley, the Southern Pacific, Mrs. Phoebe Hearst and others.

Yesterday it was voted to exclude most of this land. Yesterday Supervisor Foss changed his views, and then withdrew the protests of his clients.

The stand taken by the petitioners is that the Spring Valley has drained the Pleasanton Valley for years and should therefore be included in its taxable area. The company holds that it is being asked to finance a rival concern.

SECRETARIES ASK U. C.
TO TRAIN SUCCESSORS

A general meeting of the secretaries of commerce in California is to be held at Monterey the latter part of July.

This will be the second meeting of the new organization and among other matters to be considered is one outlining a plan for a course of study in the University of California designed to train young people to fill the positions of commercial executives. A committee has been appointed by the president, Joseph E. Clegg, consisting of L. King, secretary Chamber of Commerce of San Francisco; chairman, A. A. Denison, secretary Chamber of Commerce of Oakland; Wells Drury, secretary Chamber of Commerce of Berkeley; Joseph T. Brooks, secretary Chamber of Commerce of San Jose; and Professor H. R. "HELP COUNTRY CHILD" SUCH IS HER PLATFORM

MISS BLANCHE MORSE.

Miss Morse Knows What Is Needed in the Schools

Management of the Public School system of Alameda county, with a view to giving the children of the rural districts the benefit of the highest ideals enunciated in the most modern educational methods, is the underlying object of the candidacy of Miss Blanche Morse of Berkeley for the office of County Superintendent of Schools, according to the propaganda which she is spreading among the electorate.

Miss Morse has had fourteen years' experience in education, and in this time her civic activities and her experiences have helped to broaden her views and to fit her for the office she is seeking. Discussing the rural school problem today, Miss Morse said:

"I believe that the country districts should have as good schools and as efficient schools as the city districts."

The best teachers at attractive salaries for the rural districts, and the course of study should be revised and enriched along every line that will bring to the child the fullest measure of mental and moral development.

OBJECTIVE IN EDUCATION.

"By weeding out useless and dead material from the courses of study and substituting therefor matter closely related to the pupil's immediate, everyday life, most serious drawback to rural education would be overcome.

This would not mean the sacrifice of the formal educational subjects, of reading and composition, and history, and so on, but it would mean teaching them better by connecting them more closely with the child's actual business—the business of living his life as it is and as it is going to be. Furthermore the rural schools need more supervision than the cities. As compared with the city schools they have practically no supervision.

The county superintendent has the last word in the matter of plans for district school buildings, and in this connection Miss Morse believes that he should use this power, and his influence everywhere, to secure safe, sanitary, well-equipped and beautiful schools and playgrounds. Discussing this phase of her platform, Miss Morse said:

ESTHETICS AND UTILITY.

"There is nothing too good in the matter of schools and school equipment and management for the children of the rural districts. Their needs in this respect have been sadly neglected. Moreover, the schools and grounds should be in use every day and evening in the year for the purposes of education or of education either for the children or for adults.

Schools should be in use all the time, the money that the taxpayers invest in them, originally, and for its upkeep, and this can only be done by having the property work the year round.

Aside from the educational routine to which the schools are dedicated, the property should be social centers for the people. In no other way will they realize fully the value of the money invested in the schools.

"It is a narrow and wasteful policy to let the doors of a country school close and keep them locked as soon as the children have finished their daily and weekly lessons and during vacation periods. There should be evening and weekend entertainments for both children and adults together with similar diversions and other social gatherings in the vacation periods. This would tend to make the schools more popular with the children and create a deeper interest in education with the parents. In addition recreation and entertainment operate to elevate social standards and make rural life more enjoyable for everybody."

MEN NEEDED FOR BIG JOBS, SAYS PASTOR

PENNSYLVANIA, June 27.—"It is true that it is hard to get good executives to fill $10,000 positions," said Rev. William H. P. Roberts, clerk of the Presbyterian Church, yesterday. "I know of six high-priced pastors who have given up their pastorate for years because men of sufficient ability cannot be found to fill them."

"The lack of good executives is true in all departments of business and all vocations. The thing that is wanted both in church and state is executive ability."

Dr. Roberts was speaking apropos of the statement of Alba B. Johnson before the foreign federal relations commission that there are plenty of $10,000 places, but lack of men to fill them.

ADMIRAL DEWEY PLANS TRIP TO ESCAPE HEAT

WASHINGTON, June 27.—Admiral and Mrs. Dewey plan to leave Washington tomorrow on the Mayflower for Manhattan Beach, Cone Island, New York. The admiral has been suffering from the effects of the protracted heat and believes that a short sea trip would be beneficial. He has not been confined to his bed.

CHILD BADLY SCALDED BY POT OF HOT COFFEE

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27.—Samuel Laskatol, a two-year-old child, living with his parents at 1917 Pejar street, was severely burned this morning when a pot of coffee turned over on him as he grabbed the tablecloth while his mother was getting breakfast. The child's left leg and foot was scalded but not fatally. He was treated at the Potrero Hospital

WASHINGTON NOW HAS MINIMUM SHOP WAGES

OLYMPIA, Wash., June 27.—Effective today, $10 will be the legal minimum weekly wage of girl's over 18 and women employed in Washington mercantile establishments under an order issued by the Industrial Welfare Commission. This figure was decided on after numerous conferences between employers, employees and the commission.

Mrs. Ralph and the children have been staying at Santa Barbara, so the major took a coast train south on Thursday evening and arrived in Santa Barbara with every little worry tucked safely in the big desk in the city hall.

With the anniversary falling on a Friday this year, the mayor is taking advantage of the week-end and will remain in Santa Barbara until tomorrow evening returning in time to take up his work again on Monday morning.

THEOSOPHICAL LECTURE.

Human Factors in Good Service

THERE are three parties to each telephone connection — the party who calls, the trained operator, and the party who answers.

The telephone user shares with the operator the responsibility for good service.

Accuracy in calling, promptness in answering, clear and deliberate talking and patience on the part of the user and the operator, are essentials of good service.

In making 26,000,000 calls daily, millions of telephone users become integral parts in the Bell system and contribute to the success of the service.

must know how to play bridge, and a good guest must know the game as well—and the evening is settled. The hostess may be a good musician, but that does not matter now, to such a pitch of excellence have the modern pianola, victrola, graphophone, and other instruments been brought.

In America we are just beginning to bring into popularity the weekend visit, and apropos of that an amusing article is being extensively quoted in regard to how much it takes to make the modern woman ans home. There is a great deal of truth underlying the satire. For instance one reads

"Guests in this fashionable American country life must of course do their share. They fetch their own motors, for although the host does his best, no one with only five or six cars can really make his guests comfortable. They bring their own maids and valets, it goes without saying, and one host, encountering an unfamiliar man-servant in the hall, is said to have been told that the stranger was one of the 'valets' valets! One lady, when she comes for longer than a week-end, is accompanied by her cook and butler in addition to her maid and chauffeur. This is really sensible, for if you have any special breakfast fads or any health regime (the lovely lady in question lives almost entirely upon noodles) it is tiresome to have your food prepared by your friends' incompetent chefs. Of course if you send your hostess your diet-list ahead it is easier—many people find it worth while to telephone a menu, even for a single meal. A great deal, of course, can be managed with the modern vacuum bottles and canisters. One of the queens of society is said to come with an especially designed silver-gilt dinner-pail containing boiled rice, dried toast, Bulgarian sour milk, and other food requisites."

Of course the week-end visiting among our local smart sets is all in the pioneering stage. And it is quite true that pioneers have always had a hard time. But women should be encouraged in their work of civilization. And so one agrees with a definite conclusion, conveyed in one sentence.

If America in the twentieth century could really make visiting in other people's country houses anything but extreme physical agony, she would have made a historic contribution to the history of the race—would really have conquered the social, as she did earlier the physical wilderness."

Nevertheless we go to our neighbors' country homes whenever we are asked:

A. A. MOORE'S AT THEIR SUMMER HOME.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Moore are spending the summer at Mission San Jose, and as usual, their children and grandchildren are spending much time with them. Sympathy in abounding measure has gone out to all the Moores, from friends everywhere, because of the great tragedy which ended the life of Albert Moore Jr. Automobile tragedies have brought much sorrow to prominent homes in this city, and it is the young who have been taken, in the flower of life. The passing of Albert Moore following so closely that of Thomas Magee, has come with a great shock to the great circle of friends who knew and loved both these young men, and who have watched with interest and pride, their splendid and successful careers.

"Al" Moore, as he was known to his friends, was most lovable, strong in character, as are all the Moores, true to a friend always, loyal and brave and courageous—he was a man we could little afford to lose. It is always inexpressibly sad when the great call sounds for the young man, whose future shines all fair before him, whose life's promise is not yet fulfilled. But life's problems for solution belong only in the eternity—and even though hearts may come to the breaking point—one must trust in an infinite care.

But the caravan moves on—there is the vacant place that is never filled, in the ears of loved ones is only the echo of the step that once bravely sounded in the march. For this is the painful tragedy of life.

And so to the Moores who have always been so loving and helpful goes much affection, and the sympathy which may make their sorrow lighter in these early summer days.

HERE IS NEWS OF THOSE A-SUMMERING.

On all sides one hears reports of the summer, both in the mountains and on the seashore. It is good to take the country as they find it, since they must perform no when the children have vacation.

Later in the year, one will sigh for these same mountains, and for the glittering sands of the sea shore, when the sun is shining warm on land and sea. Nevertheless, it is playtime, and California is a happy camping ground just now.

Carmel-by-the-Sea is coming to have a rational reputation, since so many California writers have chosen it for an避暑 place. It was George Sterling who discovered the charms of fair Carmel, and now it is the permanent home of many people well known in literary circles. There is a guest tent which is never empty, and Mrs. Stone is an ideal mother in planning good times for her girls. A large party of guests will be entertained by the Stones over the Fourth of July holidays. Among those who went to the Russian river with the Stones this week is Miss Elsie Posey, the bright and most attractive young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Posey. Miss Posey has just finished her freshman year in the University of California, and is one of the younger college women who is making a specially good record.

Mrs. George Percy and her daughter, Miss Isabelle Percy, the well known artist, are among those who will spend part of the summer at Carmel, and Mrs. Poston and Miss Seymour will also be there for the month of July. Miss Seymour is a well known portrait painter of New York, who has come to make her home on this coast. She is a niece of Mr. Bruce Hayden and a cousin of Mrs. Maxwell Taft and Mrs. Clarence Shuey. Others who will be at Carmel-by-the-Sea this season are Among those who are motoring extensively this summer are Mr. and Mrs. Stephen J. Sill of Berkeley. They recently motored through Lake and Tullo counties, and spent some days at their ranch near Davis.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Goodchild of Mexico are expected to arrive in Oakland next week, but they will only be here for a few days in passing, as they are on their way to England where they will spend the summer.

Mrs. Goodchild was formerly attractive Anna Poston, one of the most popular girls of the Friday Night set, and much loved by her friends.

Mr. Goodchild has large interests in Mexico, and the Goodchilds have been in the heart of the disturbances in that unhappy country. One can imagine that life was of more than the ordinary degree of interest, with bullets flying around one's root tree.

The Goodchilds expect to stay longer in London on their return from abroad, when many complimentary affairs will be arranged for the visitors.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Watson Cushing and Miss Carmen Ghirardelli have been delayed in their departure for Europe, where they had planned to spend the entire summer. Mrs. Cushing sprained her ankle, Politely but very firmly and from a lofty height, the request was made.

From a height equally lofty if not more so, the request was denied—the members saying they lived in Claremont, and were in real truth, the "Claremont Club."

The Taylors have done a great deal for the club, and Mrs. Taylor and her bright young daughter, Miss Bernice Taylor are both very popular in club and also in social affairs.

Do Men Beautify Themselves?

(By Lillian Russell)

Copyright, By LILLIAN RUSSELL.

I KNOW that men as a class are more vain than women. Of course they will pooh-pooh this statement, but it is true nevertheless. They are even looking for conquest; if it is not of the fair sex it is for admiration for their ability as a speaker, a writer or an athlete. But believe me, men do beautify themselves. I will say, that men do as much to appear handsome as women do. If they are married they generally go to a barber shop or Turkish bath for their beauty treatments. Though I know several who take the same treatments for wrinkles and so forth as the women.

It is commendable, for at least they are honest enough to give her the same privileges they enjoy.

Men have their hair singed, their heads massaged and tickled, their faces massaged and toned up by electricity, their eyebrows shaved or pulled into shape, their nails manicured and no end of other beautifying treatments. And, why not? It is a man's duty to appear paying a compliment to his friends, if not to the world.

Now, please don't mind me. To look younger, I met one charming man a few days ago who had just come from a hair salon. He was without one. Naturally I remarked how much better he looked to which he replied, I am a grandfather now, it's high time I began to think about growing young again."

It is only conceit of oneself when one neglects his person. If men could realize how unattractive they are when they pride themselves upon wearing one suit of clothes until it is worn out, or when said that it stands alone, then they boast of never having their nails manicured. Not a Turkish bath, they would fly to the first tailor at hand, order a new suit, then take a Turkish bath and have their nails manicured. But when men boast of their unattractiveness they are so filled with conceit that they imagine they are irresistible in any condition. It is a man's duty to be as attractive as a woman, and no one appreciates that little consideration more than a woman.

Remember there is no man so attractive that he can neglect his person or its raiment and win form to the shape of the finger tips and to extend slightly beyond them the cuticle well loosened and smooth, cut it only when necessary. Polish the nails slightly, but use no tint. It is not fit for a man to keep his nails in good condition, it is only a mark of neatness and refinement.

C. J. I would suggest that you massage the star with a good skin food daily. This will feed the skin and gradually fill in the scar. You must have patience, however, and persist in this treatment if you wish to get satisfactory results. If you care for the formula for skin food I shall gladly send it to you upon receipt of a stamped, addressed envelope.

HARRIET Excessive dryness of the skin may result from a natural insufficiency of the skin or from a violent unsuitable treatment of the skin. If you have been using strong emollients the present condition of cracking, scaling and burning is easily accounted for. Stop using soap and water for a while and cleanse the face with sweet olive or almond oil. The application may be used with pieces of absorbent cotton. The oil may be wiped off with a soft cloth. At night massage the face with a good skin food.

SEA ROMANCE ON ROCKS

Stewardess Weds; Divorce Suit Follows Troubles

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27.—Retired navy officer and student of the action for divorce by Mrs. Eddie Mead Nicholson against James Nicholson yesterday afternoon a strange sea romance involving "gun plays" and an attractive Los Angeles widow came to a close. The marriage took place at the Palace Hotel December 19 last, after the captain of the steamship Sierra to marry them at sea.

Only two months before the matrimonial event James Nicholson, scion of a wealthy family of Hollywood, Cal., and Pittsburgh Pa., was having a fervent affair of the heart with Mrs. Elizabeth

AN FRANCISCO, June 27.—Retired navy officer and student of the action for divorce by Mrs. Eddie Mead Nicholson against James Nicholson yesterday afternoon a strange sea romance involving "gun plays" and an attractive Los Angeles widow came to a close. The marriage took place at the Palace Hotel December 19 last, after the captain of the steamship Sierra to marry them at sea.

The wedding was kept secret because Walker, attending the university, wished to wait until the end of his college term to announce that he has joined the ranks of the bachelors.

After the brief honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Walker will live in Los Angeles, where the author of "Motherhood" will continue her writing. She has written many poems for Eastern magazines. For several years she has been associate editor of her most beautiful verses have smoothly, and Nicholson sought to persuade his fiance to enter a suicide pact with him. She declined, and he discharged his revolver in her apartment. Mrs. Carhart ran from her rooms, at 425 South Grand avenue, Los Angeles, screaming that Nicholson had tried to kill her. He spent a night in jail, but on the following day was released when Mrs. Carhart appeared and said the shot

Retiring from Honolulu last December Nicholson became acquainted with Mrs. Carhart, a barbershop girl on the streets, and after a courtship of two days, they became engaged. Failing to effect a sea wedding, they were married two hours after landing her.

The hasty marriage proved unhappy for Mrs. Nicholson, according to the complaint filed yesterday by Attorney J. C. Swanson. Nicholson, the plaintiff, desired to begin the day with heavy drinking, continuing until the small hours of the morning, insisting that his bride remain awake and entertain him by serving as a listener to his conversations. Warying at last, he would command her to make a fire and cook a meal, which frequently, it is alleged, he was unable to eat.

Nicholson was said to have received $17,000 from his family at the time of his marriage, six months ago.

OIL OPERATOR'S WIFE SUES FOR DIVORCE

FRESNO, June 27.—H. H. Brix, one of the wealthiest men of the San Joaquin valley, who made his vast fortune in oil fields was sued for divorce yesterday by Mrs. Helena S. Brix. The sealed document was placed on the at noon insertion is said to be the cause for action. Mrs. Brix is at present in the Rosemead vase with her three children. Brix is living at a local hotel.

The divorce proceedings were foreshadowed by a property settlement, which was filed with the county recorder May 27, 1912. The Brixes have been separated for some time. By the agreement Brix agrees to pay each month to his wife the sum of $500. Due to various city properties were given to her in the palatial home on Fresno avenue.

POETESS WEDS SECRETLY IN SOUTH

LOS ANGELES, June 27.—Surrendering at last to the little god of love, whom she has eulogized in many poems, Caroline Reynolds, California poetess, entered the drama of a secret marriage more than a month ago, which was revealed only yesterday when the bridal couple left on their honeymoon.

Miss Reynolds and Loren F. Walker,

New York, June 27.—The Cunard liner Aquitania, which docked in New York this morning a second time, came near being the scene of a deep sea wed- ding. The one thing which prevented was Captain Turner's refusal to grant a license, so they postponed the marriage until after the landing yesterday.

The second day out Wilhelm Thiele of New York fell in love with Miss Paula Stier of Santa Barbara, Cal.

Midway across the Atlantic, they presented themselves before the captain and asked for a deep-sea wedding under the old English law. The ship was under British law at the time and the regulations require fourteen days' notice.

FLIPPANT VERSE NETS WIFE ALIMONY

NEW YORK, June 27.—A postcard bearing a bit of flippant verse, which it was said had been found in the pocket of Seymour P. Stearns, son of a Presbyterian clergymen of San Francisco, in Supreme Court Justice Aspinwall in Brooklyn to grant $5 a week alimony and $100 counsel fees to Mrs. Helen Stearns in her suit for separation. Stearns appeared through counsel, but did not oppose his wife's application for alimony and counsel fees. Only her sentiment against it deterred her from suing for an absolute divorce, she said.

OPEN MIRA VISTA.

Mrs. W. G. Henshaw left for Santa Barbara Thursday evening to open "Mira Vista" for the summer. Miss Florence Henshaw followed on Friday, but Mr. and Mrs. Harry Chickering will not join them until several weeks. Mrs. Chickering is rapidly recovering from her recent serious illness.

Miss Vista will be the scene of many delightful entertainments during the Santa Barbara season, and a number of the Henshaw's friends have invited for week-ends at Montecito.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED.

The engagement of Miss Sophie Conrad, and Vernon Charles Sheehan was announced at a recent dinner given last night by Miss Conrad at her home in Montecito avenue. She is the daughter of Philip Conradi of Oakland and is a charming, accomplished girl with a host of friends. Mr. Sheehan is the son of Mrs. J. F. Sheehan of Oakland and a graduate of the University of California. He is in business in San Francisco, but the young couple will live in Oakland after the wedding, which will take place in July.

Later in the season Mr. and Mrs. Braden with Miss Winifred and Mrs. Louise Braden are planning an interesting trip to the Panama Canal.

MRS. WOODBURY ENTERTAINS.

Mrs. Charles Woodbury was hostess at a delightful tea Thursday afternoon at her home in Brush street, in honor of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Clarence Woodbury of Ontario, Canada. Attending the tea were the three daughters and Mrs. E. A. Deaverage, Mrs. Cason and Mrs. Taylor. The guests were Mrs. Samuel Shepard, Mrs. J. W. Franklin, Mrs. D. W. Delwick, Mrs. Charles W. Kinsey, Mrs. C. Posey, Mrs. Von Heimes, Mrs. Ralph Kinney, Mrs. Charles Leonard Smith, Mrs. Charles W. Kinsey Jr., Mrs. D. W. Delwick, Mrs. N. M. Moran Is Confident of Beating Once Wonderful Black Heavyweight Boxer.

(By THE TIMEKEEPER.)

Tonight in Paris will start the most exciting fortnight of the year in boxing circles. Not since the memorable meeting of Jeffries and Johnson at Reno has the heavyweight title been really at stake. Johnson, it is true, fought Jim Flynn, the Pueblo fireman, in 1912, but that bout was never considered one in which the title was in danger. The meet between Moran and Johnson presents stocks, while the condition of the champion is very uncertain. Moran would be no match for the colored man if the latter were in his old-time form, but in this match there is just that chance that Johnson is no longer fit.

Johnson, it is true, fought Jim Flynn, the Pueblo fireman, in 1912, but that bout was never considered one in which the title was in danger. The meet between Moran and Johnson presents a pinch hitter for Joe Tobin. It sounds funny but it's true. Joe isn't hitting very well these days, and Manager Howard sent in Mundorff to bat for the Sealer centerfielder. Mundorff didn't come through, however.

The sentiment of the San Francisco fans seemed to be more with the Tigers than with the Seals. The fans across the bay are some visitors when the Seals are leading the league, but they are quick to ride them when Howard's men are losing.

Although the Oaks made only one error, their game in the field was lifeless and loose. Besides this, only three of their hits were made with men on bases.

High School Boy Prominent in Fourth Defeat for Oakland

Seals Slide Slowly Cellarward as Tigers Feast Again

LOS ANGELES, June 27.—With another swatfest, even more effective than that of the day before, Los Angeles today shut out Portland and garnered a total of sixteen hits from two pitchers. Portland never had a chance.

In the first inning Wolter started the clouting for the Angels with a three-base hit. Riddle followed it with a twirling for a run. He got as far as the fourth, and the Angels had made only five runs when Martinni was impressed to stop the onslaught.

Instead of helping matters, Martinni got his ten times with a "safety first" score. and the Angels secured nine more runs.

LOSES FINE TRIP AT CITY EXPENSE

The Village Marshal of Genoa Junction Volunteers to Return Oscar Lockwood.

C. J. Barrows, who signs himself "Village Marshal of Genoa Junction, Wis." will be a disappointed custodian of the public peace when he receives a telegram from Captain of Inspectors Lou F. Agnew of Oakland today. Barrows thought he had a chance to see the Panama-Pacific Exposition in the making, and wanted a trip to the Pacific Coast. Also he wanted the city of Canada to pay the fare. Here is the telegram he sent to Agnew today:

"I have Oscar Lockwood in custody. What shall I do with him? Do you want him brought back?" If so, wire express. Lockwood admits his crime and is willing to go back. Wire answer quick. C.

It was a persuasive telegram. Agnew resisted. Here is his answer:

"C. J. Barrows, Village Marshal: Inspector Flynn starts today for Genoa Junction with warrant. Hold Lockwood pending arrival."

"L. F. AGNEW,
Captain of Inspectors."

There is no mention of "expenses" in Agnew's reply. And he is sending Inspector Flynn to bring back the man who "admits his crime." It will Lockwood was named in the warrant issued April 15 for Percy J. Wright and Louis Loughran, employees of the Southern Pacific Company charged with obtaining property under false pretenses by manipulating pay checks of the corporation. Wright was arrested sometime ago.

POLICE PREVENT WOMEN'S JOURNEY

Delicatessen Partner Borrows $350 and Gets as Far as Station.

Charged with an attempt to victimize Mrs. Josephine Bittner, of 574 Grove street, Mrs. Matilda Wilkkehr, who came here from Detroit, Michigan, three weeks ago, was arrested last night at the Sixteenth street station in Oakland and remained in the city prison in San Francisco today with a charge of grand larceny against her. Mrs. Wilkkehr was accompanied by her 16-year-old daughter Gertrude and at the time of her arrest, had purchased tickets for the East and checked her baggage.

When Mrs. Wilkkehr came to San Francisco she met Mrs. Bittner whose confidence she gained, and proposed that they go into partnership in a delicatessen store. They found a location at Third and Filmore street and were about to start business when Mrs. Wilkkehr said she needed $350. Mrs. Bittner loaned her the money and shortly after her partner packed her trunk and had them removed from the Grove street home. Mrs. Bittner became suspicious and caused the baggage to be searched for, with the result that it was located yesterday at the Sixteenth street depot in Oakland.

Detectives Dolan and Klambach took Mrs. Wilkkehr into custody after the arrest of her son and daughter by the Oakland police.

IN SUCH PAIN WOMAN CRIED

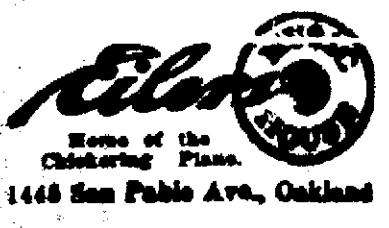

Suffered Everything Until Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Florence, So. Dakota.—"I used to be very sick every month with bearing down pains and backache, and had a headache a good deal of the time and very little appetite. The pains were so bad that I used to sit right down on the floor and cry, because it hurt me so and I could not do any work at those times. An old woman advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I got a bottle. I felt better the next month so I took three more bottles of it and got well so I could work all the time. I hope every woman who suffers like I did will try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. P. W. LANSENG, Route No. 1, Florence, South Dakota.

Why will women continue to suffer day in and day out or drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has restored the health of thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as dyspepsia, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, etc.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

EAGLES TO HOLD MEET STATE AERIES TO FLOCK

Thousands of Eagles from all parts of California will flock to Shell Mound Park in Emeryville tomorrow to participate in the great celebration of State Aeris that will be held under the auspices of Golden Gate Aeris, No. 61. The committee in charge have completed plans for the event after six weeks of preparations and it promises to be the greatest fete ever held by the organization in recent years.

A special vaudeville entertainment under the direction of wives and daughters of members of Golden Gate Aeris will be one of the features of the picnic. The event has been arranged as a compliment to the women, and prominent among those directing it are Mrs. C. E. A. Creighton and Mrs. B. F. Hanlon. Miss Dorothy Williams will dance several of the most difficult fancy national dances and Miss Frances Barrett will also give several numbers.

Ladies and children will be admitted free to the festival and in addition to the vaudeville entertainment many other attractive events have been arranged in their honor.

It was a persuasive telegram. Agnew resisted. Here is his answer:

APRICOT PICKING HAS EARLY START

Canneries Will Begin "Putting It Up" Hayward Crop June 30.

HAYWARD, June 27.—Apricot picking which started in Hayward orchards recently has been completed and the canneries in this district will start handling the large crop June 30. One orchardist is employing 100 men to pick his apricots which are a heavy crop this year and of excellent quality.

The disastrous effect of the unusual wet conditions in the early part of the year is reflected in the picking of cherry trees, many of which have been uprooted by the orchardists to make room for storage tanks.

A Castro Valley orchardist claims to have solved the problem of growing young trees planted where old ones once stood. He has reported that young trees will not flourish as well as they ought in ground where the roots of old trees have been, on account of an acid that the roots leave. By building a fire in the holes when the old trees are removed the orchardists say the effect of the acid will be counteracted.

ESCORT OF HONOR

U. S. Vessels Will Be Sent to This Coast for Limited Time in 1915.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—Secretary Daniels, in a statement early today, announced that the ships of the Atlantic battle fleet which will lead the international naval parade out of Hampton Roads for the opening of the Panama canal next March would return from the Pacific coast to Atlantic waters after participating in the Panama-Pacific exposition.

The statement as issued by the secretary said reference was being made to day to the navy department's plan regarding the forthcoming exposition had been misconstrued as an announcement that the fleet would be sent to the Pacific coast and there remain for a long time.

TO SEND ESCORT.

The statement is as follows: "Next spring it is the intention of the navy to send as great a proportion of the Atlantic fleet as can be conveniently spared as an escort of honor to visiting ships of foreign nations attending the ceremonies incident to the opening of the Panama canal. The fleet will accompany the visitors through the canal to San Francisco, which will be reached in April, where they will take part in the ceremonies incident to the Panama-Pacific exposition. Further than this no definite plans have been made."

DIVISION OF FOUR SHIPS.

It is possible that a division of four ships will take advantage of this occasion to visit Honolulu and that another division will visit Puget Sound. The fleet will then return to the Atlantic coast. Whether or not any of the ships of the fleet will be left permanently on the west coast has not yet been determined, although, with the opening of the Panama canal, it is of course obvious that there will eventually be more ships in Pacific waters than at present."

Prominent Woman Of Livermore Dead

Mrs. John H. Martin, 45 years of age, for many years a resident of Livermore, died this morning after a long illness at her temporary home, 521 Nineteenth street.

Mrs. Martin was the daughter of George May, one of the prominent and early residents of the Livermore valley. Sisters are Mrs. William Church, wife of the former supervisor; Mrs. Arthur Welder and Mrs. J. F. Horton.

STRANDED STEAMER IS TOWED TO DUCKS

SUPERIOR, Wis., June 27.—After some hazardous work by the tug men, the big steel steamer Mataafa, which stranded on the breakwater piers at the Superior entry while trying to make the harbor in a gale this morning, was released and towed to the Great Northern on docks.
